

JESI

Marche region

The homeland of the best wines

- - - - x

Jesi is a picturesque town in Italy's Marche region, renowned for its well-preserved medieval walls and rich cultural heritage. Nestled between rolling hills and vineyards, it is the birthplace of Emperor Frederick II and boasts a charming historic center filled with elegant piazzas, Renaissance palaces, and centuries-old churches. Surrounded by the Verdicchio wine-producing countryside, Jesi offers visitors a perfect blend of history, art, and authentic Italian flavors.

“

Jesi's gastronomic culture celebrates traditional Marche cuisine, with fresh handmade pasta, rich meat dishes, and the renowned Verdicchio wine as its crown jewel.

”

IN THE SURROUNDINGS

- - - - X

The province surrounding Jesi offers a tapestry of Marche's finest landscapes and traditions: rolling hills dotted with medieval villages like Morro d'Alba and Staffolo, renowned for their wines; the historic charm of Fabriano, famous for its centuries-old paper-making tradition; and the natural beauty of the Frasassi Caves, one of Europe's most spectacular karst cave systems.

